Accurate and reliable holiday data at a glance.

Copp Clark's Goodbusiness Day Finder® is the only financial calendar specifically designed for forward FX and derivatives markets. It is used and relied upon by financial institutions around the world to determine appropriate schedules in forward contracts and to reduce transactional risk relating to the settlement of international payments.

- Each day's spread instantly indicates holidays, day counts, and forward value dates for one year forward
- Indicates all future holidays affecting every currency and major global financial center

- Adheres to the 'modified following' protocol and accepted standards of international foreign exchange markets
- Each spread also includes a 30-year swaps/mid-term table and a daily count-back table counting 12 months back
- Also includes reference calendars counting 9 years back and 31 years forward

Holidays for 8 additional currencies (current month only)

Add a Base

Our calendar base is built to last. Made of high impact polystyrene with flexible polycarbonate hoops that won't break. The low profile design is ideal for any work environment. (Sold separately.)
